

Young Drum Half Term Takeover

Suitable for people aged 7-25 years | Mon 15 Feb – Fri 20 Feb 2016 | 12pm till 5pm | Tickets £10 a week or FREE with a Young Drum Term Pass but you must register your interest at Box Office by Sat 13 Feb 16

Have you ever thought about what it means to be you? Well this half term, we are going to ask just that. In a jam packed week of activities including sessions in Drama, Dance, Music and Multimedia, Taster Sessions from outside organisations and a Together Afternoon (for all the family) we will explore the important question “what does it mean to be me?” We will creatively share our findings at the “What it means to be me” Showcase on

Fri 20 Feb at 4pm, tickets are FREE so come along and show your support.

Monday	Take part in taster sessions in Drama, Dance, Music and Multimedia all day long. Pick one art form that you would like to focus on for the week!
Tuesday	In the first half of the day experience creative taster sessions from outside organisations. In the second half of the day, knuckle down and get to know your chosen art-form.
Wednesday	Invite the whole family down for a fun day from 12pm till 2pm and get stuck in. Get back to exploring “what it means to be me” with your creative mentor in the later part of the day.
Thursday	Spend all day working with your creative mentor to make great content for our public showcase “what it means to be me”
Friday	Spend all day rehearsing, like proper actors and actresses, ready for our 4pm public sharing “what it means to be me” which will be created and made by our incredible young people. Don't forget to invite your friends and family.

Address: The Drum, 144 Potters Lane, Aston, Birmingham, West Midlands, B6 4UU
Email: t.buckley@the-drum.org.uk / younggiftedbrum@gmail.com
Telephone: 0121 333 2431 / 07736 923866
Facebook: www.facebook.com/younggiftedbrumatthedrum
Instagram: @YoungDrum
Twitter: @Young_Drum